A. Ayush Systems

Ayush include Ayurveda, Yoga & Naturopathy, Unani, Siddha, Sowa Rigpa and Homoeopathy. Ayurveda is the oldest system with a documented history of its practice for more than 5000 years whereas Homoeopathy is in practice in India for around 200 years. These systems are being practised in the country with diverse preferences of people and infrastructural facilities. Ayush systems of medicine include Indian Systems of Medicine and Homoeopathy.

The Indian System of Medicine is of great lineage. It is the culmination of Indian thought of medicine which represents a way of healthy living valued with a long and unique cultural history and epitomizes the vedic guidance of 'Let noble thoughts come to us from every side'. Thus, one can see an amalgamation of the best of influences that came in from the contact of different sources of knowledge. While Ayurveda, Siddha and Yoga has been a part of ancient vedic tradition our scriptures and associated with sages like Charaka, Sushruta, Agastya and Patanjali, assimilating practices of other civilizations enriched this tradition. Unani Medicine has roots in Greece, Homoeopathy in Germany, and Naturopathy in the 19th century Natural Cure Movement of Europe. In parallel to the multifaceted cultural evolution of our country, Ayush medicinal systems have evolved over centuries blessed with a plethora of traditional medicinal practices.

(i) Ayurveda:

Ayurveda is the time tested traditional system of medicine of India that explains the cause of different miseries, imparts the knowledge of life and advocates promotion of physical, mental and spiritual wellbeing. It is believed that Ayurveda is originated out of Vedas (particularly Rigveda and Atharvaveda). Numerous references of health, diseases, their treatment as well as use of non-materialistic things such as sunrays, fasting, mantra etc; are available in these Vedas. The knowledge of Ayurveda was first comprehensively documented in the compendia like 'Brahma Samhita', 'Āgniveshatantra', 'SusrutSamhita', 'Bhela Samhita' etc.

According to Ayurveda, health is considered as a basic pre-requisite for achieving the goals of life - Dharma (duties), Arth (finance), Kama (materialistic desires) and Moksha (salvation). Ayurveda describes that Satva (mind), Atma (real self) Shareer (the body) collectively known as Tri-danda, is essential for the existence of the man. This conscious combination supports the man like a tri-pod supports the table, and is the one for which Ayurveda is flourished across the ages. Ayurveda states that human is formed up of five basic elements i.e. Pancha Mahabhootas, namely: Prithvi (earth), Jal (water), Agni (fire), Vayu (air) and Akash (ether) and real self. These five elements are the basic building blocks of Tridosha - three groups of factors which participate in the health and disease known as the Vata (ether + air), Pitta (fire) and Kapha (earth + water), Saptadhatu-seven tissue systems explained in Ayurveda, and Mala- metabolic end products. Furthermore, it also explains the individuals' integral relationship with the nature and opines that human body is affected by the daily cosmic changes, seasons and environment and therefore describes daily regimen, seasonal regimen and dietary concepts for a healthy life. This indicates the system approach of Ayurveda i.e. the interaction of different systems within the body and interaction in between body and environment. Ayurveda, being an applied science and considering the limitations for printing in ancient time, all the ancient texts have concentrated mainly on applied aspects. Understanding of 'Functional Anatomy' i.e. Shareer is the unique contribution of Ayurveda to the modern science which has great potential for new discoveries in system Biology.

(ii) Unani:

Unani Medicine (Tibb.) is a medical system with comprehensive solution for the various states of human body providing preventive, promotive, curative and rehabilitative health care. This system has evolved in different parts of the world by imbibing observations and experiments of many civilizations.

The fundamentals, diagnosis and treatment modalities of the system are based on scientific principles. The basic framework of this system is based on the Hippocratic theory of four Humours, according to which any disturbance in the equilibrium of humours causes disease and therefore the treatment aims at restoring the humoral equilibrium. The system also believes that Medicatrix Naturae (Tabiat Mudabbira-i-Badan) is the supreme power, which controls all the physiological functions of the body, provides resistance against diseases and helps in healing naturally.

The most important principle of Unani Medicine is temperament (Mizāj) which classifies human beings, diets, drugs, etc. into four qualitative types: hot and dry, hot and wet, cold and wet & cold and dry. The pathological shift in the temperament causes disease, which is cured by reversing the abnormal temperament to the normal using drugs and diets of opposite temperament. The four humours (Akhlāt), i.e. blood (Dam), phlegm (Balgham), yellow bile (Safrā') and black bile (Sawdā') are the liquid fundamental substances of living things possessing ability to support the biological processes, i.e. life, nutrition, growth, sensation, movement and reproduction. Human temperament is commonly denoted by the dominant humour i.e. sanguineous (Damwi), phlegmatic (Balghami), choleric (Safrāwi) and melancholic (Sawdāwi), which can be correlated with the temperaments of diets, drugs, environmental factors, etc.

The Unani system of medicine includes the science of maintaining health (Hifzān-I Sihhat) which lay importance to the understanding and maintenance of health in a positive and individualized manner with the help of different guidelines. Some of the commonly used guidelines are summarized as: Regimens for Seasons (Tadābir-i Mavasim), Regimens for Age-groups (Tadābir-i Asnān), Regimens for Pregnancy (Tadābir-i Hamal), Regimens for Travellers (Tadābir-i Musāfir) etc.

(iii) Siddha:

The Siddha system is an ancient system of medicine in India. The Siddha system medicine is founded by eighteen Siddhers namely Agasthiyar, Thirumoolar, Bogar, Patanjali, Pulipani etc. The eighteen Siddhers had contributed towards the systematic development and were recorded in Tamil language.

The Siddha system of medicine emphasizes on the patient, environment, age, sex, race, habits, mental frame work, habitat, diet, appetite, physical condition, physiological constitution of the diseases for its treatment which is individualistic in nature diagnosis of diseases are done through examination of tongue, colour of body, speech (voice), eye, touch, stool, urine, naadi (pulse) and status of the digestion of individual patients. System has unique treasure for the conversion of metals and minerals as drugs and many infective diseases are treated with the medicines containing specially processed mercury, silver, arsenic, lead and sulphur without any side effects. The strength of the Siddha system lies in providing very effective therapy in the case of Psoriasis, Rheumatic disorders, Chronic liver disorders, Benign prostate hypertrophy, bleeding piles, peptic ulcer including various kinds of Dermatological disorders of non-psoriatic nature. Varmam is the special treatment in Siddha system to treat Vatha diseases applying oil and doing massage therapy to cure the diseases. Yoga is the special treatment founded by Patanjali Muni, who is one of the eighteen Siddhers found Siddha system medicine explained in details of all posture and it is very effective in keeping the body young and energetic.

During the last six decades, there has been continuous development in Siddha medical education and this has led to the establishment of the National Institute of Siddha at Chennai as an apex Institute having eight specialties in Post-Graduate teaching leading to the award of M.D(S) Degree. They are Maruthuvam (General Medicine), Pura Maruthuvam, Varma Maruthuvam, Siddher Yoga Maruthuvam, Kuzhanthai Maruthuvam (Paediatrics), Gunapadam (Pharmacology), Noi Nadal (Pathology) and Nanju Maruthuvam (Toxicology).

(iv) Yoga:

The word "Yoga" comes from the Sanskrit word "yuj" which means "to unite or integrate. "Yoga is about the union of a person's own consciousness and the universal consciousness. It is primarily a way of life, first propounded by Maharshi Patanjali in systematic form Yogsutra. The discipline of Yoga consists of eight components namely, restraint(Yama), observance of austerity(Niyama), physical postures(Asana), breathing control(Pranayam), restraining of sense organs (Pratyahar), contemplation(Dharna), meditation(Dhyan) and Deep meditation (Samadhi). These steps in the practice of Yoga have the potential to elevate social and personal behavior and to promote physical health by better circulation of oxygenated blood in the body, restraining the sense organs and there by inducing tranquility and serenity of mind and spirit. The practice of Yoga has also been found to be useful in the prevention of certain psychosomatic diseases and improves individual resistance and ability to endure stressful situations. Yoga is a promotive, preventive rehabilitative and curative intervention for overall enhancement of health status. A number of postures are described in Yoga literature to improve health, to prevent diseases and to cure illness. The physical postures are required to be chosen judiciously and have to be practiced in the correct way so that the benefits of prevention of disease, promotion of health and therapeutic use can be derived from them.

The United Nations General Assembly had declared June 21st as the International Yoga Day on 11th December, 2014. Every year the Prime Minister of India, leads the nation in celebration of IDY.

(v) Naturopathy:

Naturopathy is rooted in the healing wisdom of many cultures and times based on the principle of natural healing. The principles and practices of Naturopathy are integrated in the life style of the people with emphasis on living close to nature.

Naturopathy is a cost effective non pharmacological therapies involving the use of natural materials for health care and healthy living. It is based on the theories of vitality, boosting the self-healing capacity of the body and the principles of healthy living. Naturopathy is a system of natural treatment and also a way of life widely practiced, globally accepted and recognized for health preservation and management of illnesses. Naturopathy advocates living in harmony with constructive principles of nature on the physical, mental, social and spiritual planes. It has great promotive, preventive, curative as well as restorative potentials.

Naturopathy promotes healing by stimulating the body's inherent power to regain health with the help of five elements of nature – Earth, Water, Air, Fire and Ether. It is a call to “Return to Nature” and to resort to a simple way of living in harmony with the self, society and environment. Naturopathy advocates ‘Better Health with usage of Natural therapeutics, fasting, diet, yoga and physical culture’. It is reported to be effective in chronic, allergic, autoimmune, degenerative and stress related disorders. The theory and practice of Naturopathy are based on a holistic view point with particular attention to simple eating and living habits, adoption of purificatory measures, use of hydrotherapy, cold packs, mud packs, baths, massages, fasting etc.

(vi) Homoeopathy:

"Homoeopathy" was introduced as a scientific system of drug therapeutics by a German Physician, Dr. Christian Frederick Samuel Hahnemann in 1805. While translating a medical treatise by Scottish physician and chemist, William Cullen, from English to German, in 1790, he came across a foot note under Cinchona that attributed its fever curing property to the astringent (decongestant) qualities of the drug. Being sceptical of Cullen's remarks concerning the effect of Cinchona for curing malaria, Hahnemann experimented its effect on himself by taking repeated doses of cinchona tincture and experienced fever, shivering and joint pains: symptoms similar to those of malarial fever. After series of experiments, Hahnemann concluded that a drug that could produce certain symptoms in healthy individuals could also cure similar disease symptoms, in accordance with some hidden, natural laws of similars as had been vaguely perceived by ancient physicians. This led to the coining of the word "homoeo-pathy" (which comes from the Greek: ὁμοιος hómoios, "-like" and πάθος páthos, "suffering"). Based on this, Hahnemann postulated the key principle of Homoeopathy, the Law of Similars, logically evolving it as an experimental science, according to the method of inductive reasoning after exact observation, correct interpretation, rational explanation and scientific construction.

(vii) Sowa-Rig-pa (Amchi Medicine)

“Sowa-Rigpa, commonly known as Amchi medicine, is the traditional medicine of many parts of the Himalayan regions. Sowa-Rigpa means ‘Science of healing or Knowledge of healing’ in Bhoti language of Himalayan regions, the practitioner of Sowa-Rigpa is called Amchi. Sowa-Rigpa is originated from Bhagwan Buddha in India, it is mentioned that the fundamental text book of Sowa-Rigpa (rGyud-bZi/ Chatush Tantra) is first taught by Bhagwan Buddha near Bodh Gaya in Sudarshan Van. Being originated in India, the fundamentals of Sowa-Rigpa is based on Panch Maha Bhuta, Tri Dosh, Sapt Dhatu and other Ayurvedic fundamentals and the philosophical basis of Sowa-Rigpa is based on Buddhist principals. In practice, Sowa-Rigpa is using more Himalayan plants, minerals and other natural resources.

Sowa-Rigpa is a science, art and philosophy that provide a holistic approach to health care on the basis of harmony and understanding of human being and universe i.e. the environment. It uses diagnostic techniques for examples pulse and urine examination as specialty and it embraces the key Buddhist principles of altruism, karma and ethics. According to the Sowa-Rigpa, proper alignment of the three Dosha, seven body Tissue (seven Dhatus) and three excretory products (Malas) in the state of equilibrium constitutes a healthy body. Any disequilibrium in any of the synergies leads to disease or ill-health. Amchi medical theory states that everything in the universe is made up of the five basic elements, namely, sa (Earth, Chu (Water), mei (Fire), rLung (Wind), Nam-mkha (Space).

F. National Medicinal Plants Board (NMPB)

The resource base of Ayush medicines is largely plants. Increasing global interest in natural remedies has increased the demand for medicinal plants which are mainly sourced from the wild areas. This has led to the emergence of a number of issues like sustainability, conservation, cultivation, quality assurance, protection of Traditional Knowledge, issues related to access and benefit sharing etc. To coordinate all these matters relating to medicinal plants, Government of India has established the National Medicinal Plants Board (NMPB) under erstwhile Department of Ayush, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare. NMPB is the apex national body which coordinates all matters relating to medicinal plants in the country. The Board was established in November 2000 and acts as advisory body to the concerned Ministries, Departments and Agencies in strategic planning for medicinal plants related initiatives and to take measures to provide financial support to programmes relating to conservation, cultivation and the all-round development of the medicinal plants sector.

G. STANDARDISATION OF ASU & H DRUGS

Establishing the Pharmacopoeial standards for Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani and Homoeopathy medicine, both for single drugs and formulations, is essential, as Pharmacopoeial standards are important and are mandatory for the implementation of the drug testing provisions under the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940 and Rules thereunder. Formulary specifications in case of Ayurveda, Siddha, and Unani Medicine also play the similar role. These standards are also essential to check samples of drugs available in the market for their safety and efficacy. Government of India has been working on the task of developing Pharmacopoeial standards through Pharmacopoeia Commission for Indian Medicine & Homoeopathy (PCIM&H) by preparing official Formularies and Pharmacopoeias of Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani and Homoeopathy drugs so as to evolve uniform standards for preparation of drugs and to prescribe working standards for single drugs as well as formulations in the respective system.

Standards-setting exercise till date comprises of publication of Ayurvedic Formulary of India (Part I-IV) consisting of 1036 formulations, Siddha Formulary of India (Part I-II) consisting of 400 formulations and National Formulary of Unani Medicine (Part I-VI) consisting of 1230 formulations. Further pharmacopoeial monographs on 665 single drugs (Vol. I-X) and 203 formulations (Vol. I-IV) of Ayurveda, 139 single drugs (Vol. I-II) and 01 formulation of Siddha, 298 single drugs (Vol. I-VI) and 201 formulations of Unani and 1117 drugs (Vol. I-X) of Homoeopathy have been published. These pharmacopoeial standards and Formulary specifications also include stand-alone publications on Ayush Kvātha Cūrṇa / Kuṭīnīr Cūrāṇam / Safoof-i-Joshanda.

Drug Control Cell (Ayush) is working in the Ministry to deal with the matters pertaining to Drug Quality Control and the regulation of Ayurveda, Siddha and Unani drugs under the provisions of the Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940 and Rules, 1945. The cell is looking after the activities of Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani Drug Technical Advisory Board (ASUDTAB) and Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani Drugs Consultative Committee (ASUDCC).

(I) Pharmacopoeia Commission for Indian Medicine Homoeopathy (PCIM&H):

Rule 163A to 163G of the Drugs Rules, 1945 assigns the role of establishing Pharmacopoeia standards and Formulary specifications for Indian systems of Medicine and Homoeopathy and to act as Central Drug Testing cum Appellate Laboratory thereof to PCIM&H. Pharmacopoeia Commission for Indian Medicine & Homoeopathy (PCIM&H) has key fields of activity related to Indian systems of Medicine & Homoeopathy viz.

- (i) Development and revision of Pharmacopoeia standards and Formulary specifications;

Ayush doctors who are being appointed are used to facilitate management of programmes, monitoring and effective implementation of various interventions under NHM.

There are 749 District Hospitals (DHs), 6012 Community Health Centres (CHCs) and 26158 Primary Health Centres (PHCs) in rural areas in 746 districts, 3606 blocks and 707642 villages in India as on March, 2023.

AYUSH RELATED FOREIGN TRADE

The export and import of Ayush related products takes place under the Indian Trade Classification based on Harmonized System of Coding (ITCHS) through 74 HS codes. However, it may be noted that most of the Products of Ayurveda, Homoeopathic, Siddha, Sowa Rigpa and Unani systems, Herbal Products and Medicinal Plant products are not identified under specific HS Codes (International Harmonised Commodity Description and Coding System), hence the actual quantum of exports and imports is expected to be at a higher side than figures reported under 74 HS Codes.

The India's total export value of Ayush related products increased from Rs.5223 crores in FY 19 to Rs.8637 crores in FY22 (66% increase).

The India's total import value of Ayush related products increased from Rs.2027 crores in FY 19 to Rs.3500 crores in FY22 (73% increase).

Research and Innovation component of Ayurgyan Scheme has been designed to encourage Research & Development in priority areas based on disease burden in alignment to National Health Programme. The priority areas of support are fundamental concepts, basic principles, theories of Ayush systems, standardization/validation of Ayush drugs and new drug development. Outcomes of the Research Scheme have successfully demonstrated the effectiveness of Ayush systems and were successful in developing novel technology and are expected to harness the potential of Ayush in the interest of public health delivery.

2. National Ayush Research Consortium

Ministry of Ayush has also conceptualized National Ayush Research Consortium consisting of Ministry of Ayush, DSIR, DBT and DST in consultation with NITI Aayog to develop an institutionalized system of high end, global standard quality research in Ayush systems. This 70 consortium will work with a multidisciplinary approach with scientists from basic science and Ayush to own Ayush research, sit together, visualize healthcare challenges, and plan and execute R&D initiatives to realize the goal of Health for all.

This intends to create a Research to Policy Collaboration Model for effective implementation in Policy initiatives and translation of R&D outcomes in public health. This initiative echoes with the recent address of Hon'ble PM on 75th Independence Day, where Hon'ble PM has given the slogan of 'Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan, Jai Vigyan and Jai Anusandhan'. Cabinet Secretary has given in-principle approval and a Consortium of Secretaries of Ministry of Ayush (as chair), Department of Science & Technology (DST), Department of Bio Technology (DBT), Department of Scientific & Industrial Research (DSIR), Department of Commerce (DoC), Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change of India (MoEFCCI) and Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) has been created. Sub Committee is also made to chalk out funding mechanism and roadmap.
